This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

THE

Visitation of Norfolk

IN THE YEAR 1563.

TAKEN BY

WILLIAM HARVEY, CLARENCEUX KING OF ARMS.

From Harleian MSS. in the British Museum.

VOL. I.

EDITED BY

THE REV. G. H. DASHWOOD, F.S.A.

AND CONTINUED BY

CAPTAIN W. E. G. L. BULWER, G. A. CARTHEW, ESQ., F.S.A.,
REV. W. GRIGSON, M.A., REV. AUGUSTUS JESSOPP, D.D.

Norwich:
PRINTED BY MILLER AND LEAVINS.

The completion of the First Volume presents an opportunity, which has not hitherto occurred, of offering in these pages a short tribute of respect to the memory of the late Rev. G. H. Dashwood, to whose able and careful diligence we are indebted for the publication of the early Visitation of the County of Norfolk.

Mr. Dashwood was the only surviving son of the Rev. James Dashwood, Rector of Doddington, Cambridgeshire, and was born at Downham Market, 21st October, 1801. He was for many years Vicar of Stow Bardolph and Rector of Wimbotsham, and well known as an indefatigable genealogist and antiquarian. As a Fellow of the Society of Antiquaries, and Member of the Norfolk and Norwich Archæological Society, he contributed much valuable information to the Proceedings of both these Societies; and his extensive genealogical researches enabled him to augment the Visitation of Norfolk with numerous extracts from valuable documents, and to bring the descents of existing families down to a late period.

He died on the 9th of February, 1869, after a short illness, while on a visit to Captain Bulwer, Quebec House, East Dereham, in his sixty-eighth year, sincerely regretted by all his acquaintance, but by none more than by those friends who are endeavouring to carry on the work he so ably commenced.

The Society is also greatly indebted to the Rev. C. R. Manning for a very carefully prepared Index to the First Vol. of the Visitation. No book is complete without a good index, and all who study the genealogies contained in this volume will at once recognise the value and appreciate the labour and trouble of compiling so useful an aid.

Visitation of Norfolk.

FROM HARLEIAN MSS. IN THE BRITISH MUSEUM.

COMMUNICATED BY

THE REV. G. H. DASHWOOD, F.S.A.

---

THE Pedigrees collected at various times by Heralds especially appointed by the Earl Marshall to visit the several Counties of England, are of very considerable importance to the genealogist. The results of the greater number of these "Visitations" are preserved in the College of Arms; but many have been lost, whilst some, with copies of others, are to be found in various public libraries. The British Museum is especially rich and contains many genealogical documents considered of genuine authenticity: among them there is a fair copy of the Visitation of Norfolk, made by William Harvey, Somerset Herald in the reign of Henry VIII., Norroy King at Arms in the reign of Edward VI., and appointed Clarenceux King of Arms in the time of Queen Mary. The date of the original is 1563, 6th Elizabeth, but it was transcribed by Sampson Lennard, Blewmantle Pursuivant, in 1618, and some of the Pedigrees have been brought down to that time. Harl. MS. 1177.

This it is proposed to print from time to time in the Society's Papers on Norfolk Archæology, J. J. Howard, Esq., L.L.D., F.S.A., having kindly offered his services in transcribing the Pedigrees from the original; G. A. Carthew, Esq., F.S.A., and the Rev. W. Grigson also giving valuable information for the notes, from their genealogical stores.

I have said that the Heralds' Visitations are of considerable value: and they are so; but, like all things human, they are liable to error; and we have an instance in the very first Pedigree of this Visitation. The Heralds were necessarily dependent, in a great measure, on the representative of the family who furnished the information; some, however, were much more careful in their inquiries and more scrupulous than others, and consequently have produced much more reliable returns. In many instances parties were careless and indifferent in giving information, whilst others altogether neglected the summons of the Heralds, "to attend and to bring with them such arms and crests as they use and bear, with their Pedigrees and such other evidence and matter of record and credit as may justify the same." When Sir William Dugdale made his Visitation of Yorkshire in 1665-6, nearly one-third of the whole of the gentry summoned proved contumacious.

It is to be regretted that the holding of Visitations every generation, that is every twenty-five or thirty years, should have been discontinued: the last made was that of the county of Southampton in the year 1686. The want of some such record is the more likely to be felt in the future, from the fact that one source of information, namely, Court Rolls, is beginning to dry up, owing to the numerous enfranchisements of copyholds which now take place.

As far as I can judge, from my own limited experience, the information to be derived from the County Visitations may, for three or four generations immediately preceding the date of the Visitations, be depended upon: when the Pedigrees are carried much further back, as may naturally be looked for, there is more liability to error. We have not Harvey's warrant; but the warrant of Sir Edward Bysshe to the High Constable of the Hundred of Clackclose, in the year 1664, accompanied with the names of the then existing gentry of the Hundred, is preserved in the Muniment Room at Stow: it may be interesting, and is given below.

G. H. D.

Stow, January 24th.

1. Barney.[2]

2 Arms of Berney. Per pale, az. and gu. a cross engrailed ermine. This appears to be the ancient coat of Berney, but the arms are sometimes blasoned quarterly, gu. and az. a cross engrailed erm.

Note.—The early part of this Pedigree is erroneous. From the Norris MSS. it would appear that Sir Robert Berney of Wichingham and of Gunton, Sheriff of Norfolk 1405, married Margaret, daughter and co-heir of Walter de Walcot; his son John married Catherine, daughter of Sir William Argentine, Knight: he was succeeded by his son John, who married Joan, daughter of Sir Robert Allington, Knight, and had issue another John, who married Catherine, daughter of Sir Edmund Jenny, Knight; his son, Sir Robert Berney, married Margaret, daughter of John Appleyard, Esq., who was father of Ralph Berney of Gunton, married to Amy, daughter of Sir Robert Southwell, Knight, by whom he had Robert of Gunton, married to Susan Farmor.

3 A handsome monument to his memory and that of Elizabeth his wife was erected in the chancel of St. Peter per Mountergate, in Norwich, lately restored. She was the daughter of James Hobart, of Hales-Hall in Loddon, and died 16th April, 1622.

2. Beckham.[4]

6 Richard Beckham, then of Fransham Parva, gent., died 17th of April, 10 Jac. 1, leaving Alice his widow, and Richard his son and heir, then aged 36 years. Minn Beckham therefore must have died an infant. He had three other sons, Walter, Henry, and George. He was seized of the Manors of Narfords late Cockets, and Narford alias Sawtree, late of Walter Beckham his father; also of the Manor of Canons in Fransham Parva.—Esch. 22 Jac. —G. A. C.

9 John Bedingfeld=Alice Stonham.

1 She brought Ditchingham in Norff.

2 He had estates in Bedingfeld, Witheringsett, &c., which went to his eldest son Thomas of Darsham. His sons, Robert, Richard, Edmund, and Henry, all minors in 1543.

3 Henry Bedingfeld of Ditchingham died 1594, leaving, with younger children, Philip his s. and h. who was knighted. He died s. p., having settled his estate on Philip, son of his cousin Thomas Bedingfeld of Darsham.

4. Copledike.[4]

4 Arms of Copledike: Arg. a chev. between 3 cross crosslets gules. See Bl. Hist. Norf., viii. 36. John Copledike, buried at Kirkeby-kam, 1593; also Maud his wife, 1589.

5 Leonard married, 1st, Mary, daughter of Simon Richmond of Stradbrook, and relict of ..... Bradock, in whose right he inherited the Lordship of Horham, co. Suff. He had issue by this marriage. He married, secondly, Thomazine Gavel, who survived him, and married to her second husband, Edward Calthorpe, Esq., at whose decease her son John Coppledike, Esq., inherited the Lordship of Kirby Cane, where he died 1593, leaving Thomazine sole daughter and heiress.

5. Clement.

Arms: Gules 3 garbs argent within a bordure sable besantee, a mullet sable for difference.
Crest: a lion passant argent guttee de sang.

- William Clement, of Wissingsett, descended from Clement of Toft in Lincolnshire, = Anne, dr. of
  - George Clement, of Longham in Norfolk.[6] = Audrey, dr. of John Denny of Chesthunt, relict of John Heydon of Longham.

    - John.
    - George.
  - Edmund, 2d. son. =
    - Elizabeth.

6 George Clement, gent., was buried at Longham, 22 Dec. 1600.—G. A. C.

6. Copping.

Arms: Per pale az. and gu. 3 bears' heads erased or.
Crest: Out of a ducal coronet or, a demi-griffon az.

- William Copping = Agnes, dr. of Thomas Blakey.
  - Stephen Copping, of Norwich. = Margery, dr. of Henry Ward of Poswike.

7. Castle.

Arms: Argent, 3 towers gules.

- Humphrey Castle, of Ravingham, in Norfolk. = ..... dr. of .... Townsend of Rainham.
  - John Castell, of Ravingham, = Elizabeth, dr. of Humphrey Carvell of London.
    - John Castell.[7]
    - Roger Castell, of Ravingham.[8] = Elizabeth, dr. of John Sanders of Ewell.
    - Margaret, md. Owen Hobart of Morley, gent.
    - Grisilda, md. Roger Townsend of Twyford, gent.

7 John Castell, died 16th March, 35 Elizabeth, leaving Frances his widow, and Nicholas, his son and heir, who was nine years of age on 20th June preceding.—G. A. C.

8 Roger Castell died 4th May, 23 Elizabeth, leaving Elizabeth his widow and John, his brother and heir, then 34 years of age. Will dated 20th April, 1579; proved in Cur. Epl. Norw. 13th May, 1581. Elizabeth the widow afterwards married ..... Forthe.—G. A. C.

Note.—There is some confusion of names in this Pedigree of Castell. It might be supposed that Roger Castell, or whoever of the family gave the Herald his information, must have been acquainted with the names of his immediate ancestors and their connexions, at least for the two preceding generations. Perhaps, however, they were totally indifferent, and gave no information themselves; leaving it to Harvey or his deputy to gather knowledge as he could. Blomefield, or his continuator, puts this part of the Pedigree thus—

- Ralph Castell, Esqr. = Anne Townsend.
  - John Castell, Esqr. = Elizabeth, dr. of John Carvile.
    - Roger Castell, eld. son, ob. s. p.
    - John Castell, Esq., heir to his brother.

And he would appear to be right: he is so at least in the name of the father of Elizabeth Carvile, (or Kerville) the wife of John Castell. I give the proof of this more especially in order to show how carefully the genealogist should weigh the statements, as to relationship, made in old documents. It was John Kerville, younger brother of Humphrey Kerville of Wiggenhale, who, by his wife Alice, had a daughter Elizabeth, married to John Castell. Alice survived her husband Kerville, and appears to have married again with ..... Hansard, surviving him also; and in 1548 made her will as Alice Hansard, widow.* In this she mentions her daughter, Elizabeth Castell—her son-in-law, John Castell—her nieces, Mary Castell, Martha Castell, and Grizell Castell. This would have appeared rather perplexing, had she not afterwards called the said Mary, Martha, and Grizell, the children of her daughter Elizabeth Castell: they were therefore the grandchildren of the testatrix. She also mentions her nephew, John Castle, no doubt meaning her grandson, the brother of the said Mary and her sisters.

* From the information of the Rev. W. Grigson.

8. Downe. (Downes.)

Mem.—The statement as to the earlier descents of this Pedigree is given on the authority of the Rev. R. W. Eyton, who, in his "Antiquities of Shropshire," has entered very fully into the history of the family of Le Strange. He disposes of the legend which derived the descent of the family from "Guy, the youngest of ten sons of John, Duke of Brittany, who came into England to attend a tournament held by William Peverel at his Castle in the Peak:" and from numerous public records and deeds sufficiently substantiates that above given. His work is well worthy of study by those interested in the Pedigree before us; and not only by such, but by genealogists in general.

For Robert, 3d son of Hamon le Strange and Elizabeth Hastings, read Roger. And for Anne Golding, wife of John, 3d son of Sir Nicholas le Strange, read Gooding.—Minutes of Evidence in Hastings Peerage Case.

1 Query these dates; Blomefield gives the inscription, on a brass plate in Norton Chancel, to a Thomas Brampton who died 9th of November, anno 1576. His pedigree is incorrect. Elizabeth Brampton, widow of Thomas, and Henry her son, built Blo-Norton Hall in 1585, and in 1627 Henry settled it, with the manor, &c., on his son Gawdy Brampton, whose second wife and widow, Dorothy Brampton, held her first court for the manor, which she had purchased by her trustees, on the 27th of September, 1680. John Best is said to have been Lord in 1680: Dorothy probably became his wife that same year.—G. A. C.

2 Jeffery Brampton, of Eye in Suffolk, gent., probably son of Thomas and Elizabeth, married Mary, sister of Laurence Lomax, gent. Jeffery d. s. p. 1631; his wife d. ao. 1641.

It is found that Thomas Oxburgh, Esq., died since the last court (15 Oct., 21 Jac. 1,) seized of and in six acres terræ nativæ, late held by John Reppe, Esq., lying in Tilney; which he had on surrender of the said John, at a court held 10 June, 43 Eliz.: and Hewar Oxburgh, gent., son of Thomas Oxburgh, gent., deceased, is found his next heir, of the age of eighteen years, or thereabout. 29 Oct., 4 Cha. 1. Proclamation made for Hewar Oxburgh, Esq., as being now of full age to come in, and take up all those messuages, lands, and tenements, which William Doughtye and Benjamin Creswell lately held as his guardian.

25 Oct., 5 Cha. 1. It is found that Heward Oxburgh, Esq. died since the last court, seized of divers lands; his heir unknown; nullus venit, ideo, &c.

27 Oct., 6 Cha. 1. Hewar Oxburgh, Esq. died since the last court, (before the last?) seized of a capital messuage and 8 acres of land held free, by the rent of 7d. 1 ob. 1q., also 10 acres free, by the rent 9d. 1ob. 1q. &c. (as described above and devised to Thomas, son of John Oxburgh) and it is found that Thomas Oxburgh is his brother and next heir; whence there accrues a relief, which said Thomas now by his attorney on his part discharges; and his doing fealty is respited.

To this court comes Thomas Oxburgh, Esq. brother and heir of Hewar Oxburgh, deceased, by Robert Say, sen., his attorney, lawfully constituted, to be admitted to 6 acres terræ nativæ, late Thomas Oxburgh's, Esq., and formerly John Reppe', Esq., lying in Tilney, (the same as before described) which the aforesaid Hewar Oxburgh late had to himself and his heirs, by inheritance after the death of the aforesaid Thomas Oxburgh, his grandfather, long since deceased. And the same Thomas Oxburgh, brother of Hewar aforesaid, is admitted, as by the hands of his attorney, seizin is granted, his fine is paid, and his fealty is respited, &c.

30 April, 13 Cha. 1. It is presented by the Homage that Lawrence Hewar, alias Oxburgh, of Emneth, Esq., and Thomas Oxburgh, of Ashill, co, Norf., Esq., surrendered 6 acres in Tilney, to the use of William Tyler, of King's Lynn, gent., and Mary his wife, &c. Now to this court comes the said William Tyler and Mary his wife, to be admitted to the said premises, and to others, (described 27 Oct., 6 Cha. 1) which Thomas Oxburgh, deceased, late grandfather of Lawrence and Thomas, had to himself and his heirs on surrender of John Reppe, Esq., (10 July, 43 Eliz.) and which, after the death of Thomas, the grandfather, lately descended to Hewar Oxborough, Esq., brother of the said Laurence, as heir of Thomas, and after the death of the said Hewar, descended to said Laurence, as brother and heir of the said Hewar. Which said Hewer died before he was admitted, and the said Laurence as yet has never been admitted. William Tyler and Mary his wife admitted, paying a triple fine.

1 The three matches of Robert Bedingfeld, above recorded, have been the cause of considerable confusion; no two authorities exactly agreeing. The marriage of Thomas Darcy, of Tolshunt, with Elizabeth, da. of Sir John Heydon, occurs in the Heydon Pedigree, Norris MSS.; but no reference to a marriage of Elizabeth, either previous or subsequent, with Robert Bedingfeld.

The Sir Armine Wodehouse, MS. as given by Norris, of the Bedingfeld Pedigree, attributes to Rob. Bedingfeld the said Elizabeth Heydon as his first wife and s. p.; ..... da. of Henry D'Oyley, he makes the second wife of Robert, and gives the issue, Henry, s. and h.; Philip, 2 son, s. p.; Margaret, md. to ..... Alcocke; and Mary, md. to Will. Vesey. No third wife given.

Morant's Essex states Thomas Darcy to have md. Elizabeth, da. of Sir John Heydon, and widow of Robert Bedingfeld.

The Bedingfeld Pedigree in No. 3 of this Visitation, gives Mary D'Oyley only as the wife of the said Robert, and the issue given is, Henry, Philip, Mary, and Margaret; this was doubtless copied into the Wodehouse MSS.

The Bedingfeld Pedigree in Burke's Commoners, gives the three wives, Elizabeth Heydon 1st wife, Mary D'Oyley 2nd wife, and Anne, da. of John Appleyard, 3rd wife; issue only by the second, one son, Henry, and one daughter, Phillipa, md. to John, son of Sir Clement Heigham, Knt.

The Blois MSS. gives to Robert Bedingfeld the three wives named and in the same order; he gives to Elizabeth Heydon a son Henry, to the second wife, Mary Doyley, no issue; to the third, Anne Appleyard, the three daughters, Phillipa, Margaret, and Mary, and each married as above.

I should have inclined to this MS. from the circumstance of its having been compiled, as it is said, by William Blois of Grundisburgh, who died in 1627, with additions in another hand; but it is thought by others, and the weight of authorities is on that side, that the first wife was without issue, and that the second, Mary D'Oyley, certainly had issue. I have however on the strength of the Blois MS. taken one daughter, Phillipa, to have been by the 3rd wife, Anne Appleyard, as I find in the Heigham Pedigree the marriage of John Heigham with Phillipa, who is stiled an heiress; not of course of her father, but she may have been so called as the only child of her mother, and in the Heigham Pedigree she is the only child given to Anne Appleyard by her husband Bedingfeld. Anne by her 2nd husband, Heigham, had an only child, Arthur Heigham, Rector of Redgrave, from whom are descended the Heighams of Hunston in Suffolk, now represented by John Henry Heigham, Esq., of Hunston Hall.

Armes of the Town of King's Lynn.

Azure, three conger-eels' (dragons'[1]) heads erased and erect Or, each pierced in the mouth with a cross crosslet fitchée of the last.

These be the Armes heretofore used for the arms of the Towne of Kings Linne, and now ratified and confirmed by me Clarencieux Kinge of armes. And the same Towne is incorporated by the name of Mayor & Burgeses. And at this present Visitation was, John Kynne, Mayor, Rob't. Bell, Esq., Recorder, Thomas Water, John Markanter, George Rivelcy, Robert Mowth, Rob't. Palmer, Christopher Grawnte, Robert Jerveis, and John Pell, Aldermen and Justices of the Peace, and Robert Howghton Towne Clarke of the same towne.

[1] The arms are, in the Visitation, tricked, and not blazoned in words. Edmondson, and after him most others, give the blazon as above, with three conger eels' heads; even Moule, in his Heraldry of Fish, has engraved the heads as those of eels; whereas I conceive the Arms of Lynn had no business in his book at all.

The Common Seal of the Corporation of Lynn, which was in use in the reign of Edward the First, exhibits the figure of St. Margaret piercing a dragon, under her feet, in the mouth, with the staff of her cross. The Mayor's seal has a similar design, and below a shield with three heads pierced in the mouth by cross crosslets fitchée; the heads in the shield being like the head of the dragon in the field of each seal, and totally different from the head of a conger. Moule, indeed, would take the conger as the prototype of the wyvern, or sea dragon; but the representation of the dragon never agrees with that of a conger. The arms of the Corporation, as they appeared with many other coats of arms in the interior of the lantern of St. Margaret's Church, which was standing when Mackerell wrote in 1738, but was blown down a few years later, are engraved by him in his History of Lynn, and the heads correspond with the head of the dragon upon the seals. Hence it appears clear that the blazon should be given, three dragons' heads, and not three conger eels' heads.

79. Kervill of Wigenhale.

Arms: Quarterly, 1 and 4, gules a chevron Or, btw. three leopards' faces argent, Kervill; 2. Az. three cinquefoils argent, Tilney; 3. Ermines, three lozenges ermine, within a bordure engrailed argent, Holtoft.

The family of Kerville was early enfeoffed of lands in Norfolk, held of the Honor of Wirmegaye. The name was variously written, and occurs as early as the reign of Stephen. (Ibid.)—Sir Roger de Chervyle, Knt., of great age, was struck to the earth by the said Gilbert, and languished of the blow till death ensued. (Ibid.)—Frederick de Chervill died seized of the Advowson of Tilney Church. (Esch. ao. 44 Edw. 3.)—Nicholas de Kervile and Gilbert de Kervile occur as witnesses to a deed of Nicholas de Stuteville, temp. 6 Aug. 1603. I Baldwin Derham, of Hammersmith, co. Midd'x, Esq.—Whereas Sundry Indentures, dat' 26 March and 6 April, 1562, passed between me and Thomas Derham my son and heir apparent, of the Inner Temple, gent., on the other part, &c. [His estates in Norf., &c., were, it seems, made over to his son and heir Thomas, in order to pay his, Baldwin's, debts, and also to pay divers sums to testator's other sons and daughters; and also to himself yearly two equal portions of £140 each, &c.] To Katherine Derham, my wife, and in discharge of a certain covenant passed between Mr. James Walrand her brother and myself;—my brother Mr. Robert Derham:—to Baldwin Derham my son;—to my cousin Francis Derham the boy, £10.;—to Edward Brampton, £10;—to Robert Derham and Nicholas Derham my sons;—Elizabeth, Anne, Jane, Thomasine, Martha, Frances, and Katherine my daughters.

Memorandum. Uppon further consideration of this my last Will made 1603, forasmuch as my son Thomas Derham hath not performed the covenants with me for payment of my debts, and hath paid some and left others unpaid any part, now well nigh four years, by means whereof I am in executions and outlawed for the greater part of my said debts, and with such as agreements made, sundry of them have me new bound so as the true intent and meaning of the said agreemen is not performed of his part; neither is this nor other agreements for my maintenance, and for my children's portions, if he should die, are no way like to be performed, neither is he able to perform the same, wherefore do require my executors or administrators to recover upon my lease of Creke and Calthorps in co. Norff &c.

 There are considerable differences regarding the Pedigree of Spelman between that in the Visitation of Harvey and other authorities, especially that of the famous Antiquary Sir Henry Spelman, by whom the Pedigree appended to his "Life," prefixed to his "Works," was drawn up. The William here made the son of Henry by his first wife, is there given as the son of his second wife, Ela Narborough. William's marriage and issue are accordingly repeated, and given as springing from the marriage with Ela Narborough.

We think this accounts for the expression of the will, and there was no other relationship.*

SWAFFHAM REGISTER.

1709. Dec. 1. Edward, son of Hamond and Sarah Davy, bap.

Note. It appears that the property of the Davys, of Stanfield, passed, through Richard Bond and William Beaumont, of Litcham, to Edward Shouldham, gentleman; who, by his will, dated 1646, desired the said property to be sold. Among the legatees named in his will, are the three children of his cousin William Davy, of Geyton Thorpe, namely, Edward, William, and John Davy, and he appointed the said William Davy, of Geyton Thorpe, his executor. William Davy was admitted to the copyhold lands at Stanfield 2 Oct., 1654, as above. It does not appear that these Davies were descendants of the old family of Stanfield; on the contrary, it would seem that they were of the family of Davy of Gunthorpe, as they bore the same arms. Thomas Davy, of Gunthorpe, in his will dated 1490, makes a bequest to John Davy, of Lenn.

Notes, from the MS. volume of Davy Letters, in the possession of Daniel Gurney, Esq.—W. G.

George Davy addressed a letter to his brother Mr. William Davy, at Caius College, in Cambridge, sent from London, 29 June, 1621. He writes of his sister Duffield; his uncle Webb; of his brother Robert and his brother Henry as all then living; and his brother Richard appears to have been about that time living at Rotterdam.

Henry Davy, brother of George, writes several letters to Framlingham Gawdy, of East Wrotham, in which he calls him "kinsman," and his "cousin," and in 1654 signs himself "your loving uncle, Henry Davy." This relationship was probably through the marriage of one of his sisters with a Duffield; Sir William Gawdy having married Elizabeth, daughter and heiress of John Duffield, of East Wrotham, gentleman.

William Davy, of E. Wrotham, in Norf., gent., and George Blenerhaysett, of London, haberdasher, were parties to a document dated 8 Feb. 1635. On 3 Nov. 1637, William Davy speaks of his mother and of his cousin Webb, as living. William Davy writes to Framlingham Gawdy, Esq., of W. Herling, from W. Basham, 14 Dec., 1637, and calls him his "assured friend and kinsman." In September, 1639, William Davy appears to have been Feodary of Norfolk.

Note.—In the above Pedigree, Harvey makes Robert Herward of Alburgh to marry the "da. of Barney of Redeham," and gives all the children of Robert by her. Of such a marriage there seems no doubt, and it is confirmed by the Berney Pedigrees. Norris, in the Pedigree constructed by himself, gives the marriage of the said Robert with Amy Randes, and all the children of Robert to her. The fact of the marriage is certain, but we are inclined to think the sons (if not the daughters) were by Mary Barney, as given by Harvey. Amy in her will mentions her sons Clement, Robert, and John; but if only their step-mother she might still call them sons.

In the next generation the authorities differ. Norris makes the eldest son, Clement, to marry Elizabeth, daughter of William Gurney, of Barsham, Esq. It is so given in the "Record of the House of Gurney," and it seems such marriage must have taken place. Harvey gives a "da. of Gurney" as second wife to Robert of Booton, the brother of Clement. She was probably widow of Walter Gurney, and there was a double connexion between the families of Herward and Gurney. Gough, MS. Bodlean Library, makes the said Robert of Booton to marry for his second wife the da. of Ginney, in other respects the same as Harvey. Qu. Gyney, whose arms were formerly in the church. Chitting and Le Neve give a "da. of Lovell of Harling" as second wife to Clement, the one probably copying the other. Norris continues the line from Clement the elder, given with some additions, as follows:—

Robert Herward. = Amie Randes.

- John, 2 son, under age in 1483.
- Robert, 3 son, living in 1510.
